

FESTIVAL CLOSSES IN BLAZE OF GLORY

A Large Crowd Expected at Broad-Street Park
To-Night.

The May Festival and Exposition will be brought to a close to-night in a blaze of glory. Many new and novel attractions have been planned by the management and from all indications a large crowd will be present to witness the close of the exhibition. This afternoon all the school children of the city will be the guests of the management, when they will be admitted to the grounds free of charge. Extra preparations have been made for their entertainment and a special line of shows calculated to instruct and entertain them will be presented.

The dogs and ponies have been taught new stunts and taken altogether the afternoon promises to be a gala occasion for the little folks. It is the consensus of opinion of those who have visited the grounds that the festival has never before had a closer and better line of midway attractions presented in this city. All of the shows are entertaining and are carried out as advertised. The officials and attaches of the Heck Company have been courteous and have made a lasting impression by the manner they have cared for the visitors. The Chesapeake Hospital officials who have worked in conjunction with the Heck people to make the festival a success, have been in their praises of the latter and the united effort will undoubtedly mean a goodly sum for the hospital fund.

All the attractions will again be on view to-night. In addition to the free acts which have proved to be so popular with visitors, the Weitzmanns, who have pronounced the most wonderful high-wire artists ever seen in Richmond will appear in a special programme in mid-air, which is said to be even more startling than the exhibitions they have given here this week. A monster display of mid-air fireworks will terminate the programme. The Heck company which is operated and owned by the General Amusement Company of Cincinnati, may always feel sure of a welcome should it decide to visit this city.

AUTO CONTEST SPIRITED.

The contest for the automobile will also close to-night and the spirit of rivalry which has manifested itself throughout the week will be over. Chances have been on sale all over town and at the booth in the grounds. The rivalry between the local physicians has been especially spirited and each medico is vowing that he will have the pleasure of soon calling on his patients in a motor car. The chances can be purchased at prices ranging from one dollar to $25, and City Treasurer Phillips will to-day draw the lucky number and announce the winner.

WELL-KNOWN VISITORS

Hon. Joseph Stebbins, Judge Brown, Colonel Miles and Others.

Among the visitors to the city yesterday was Hon. Joseph Stebbins, of Halifax, one of the members of the Constitutional Convention. This is his first visit to the city for many years and during his stay here he met many of his former colleagues. Mr. Stebbins is one of the most successful and prosperous merchants of Halifax, and is identified with almost all the enterprises of that town and of South Boston. When a small lad he lived in Richmond.

Judge J. Thompson Brown, of Nelson, is in the city stopping at the Murphy. Judge Brown was one of the counsel for the petitioners in the case of Judge Campbell, and is one of the ablest and purest men in his county. Speaking of the similarity of names of three gentlemen of his name, he stated that none was kin to either of the others. The first names of all three is John, but they all part it in the middle, and are known as J. Thompson Brown, of Bedford, and J. Thompson Brown of Nelson.

Hon. John B. Moon, a well known lawyer of Charlottesville, was in the city yesterday. He formerly represented his county in the House, and has many friends in this city.

MR. LEAKE TALKS FOR TORRENS SYSTEM

Hon. David H. Leake, member of the House of Delegates from Gloucester and Fluvanna, is in the city on private business and was a caller at the Capitol yesterday.

He asked concerning the probability of the passage at the November session of the Legislature of the Torrens system of land in Virginia. Mr. Leake stated that he thought the bill would most likely become law before the present Legislature goes out of office. It is such a wonderful improvement on the old worn-out method now in vogue that I have wondered that it has not long ago been adopted," said Mr. Leake, "and I verily believe it to be the disposition of the body to pass it when it comes back here next fall."

"All the members of the House Committee favor the bill and would have reported it before the recess except that they desired to give the members more time to think of it. For my own part, I believe the bill will stand a better chance before the present than the next Legislature, for the reason that the members who will come back here next fall will be in a better position to put their minds to the subject than those who will sit for only sixty days."

Mr. Leake has about made up his mind not to stand for the House next year, "Fluvanna's turn," said he in discussing it, "and I really have no desire to run again even though Gloucester was again entitled to the honor."

SILVER JUBILEE OBSERVED TO-MORROW

The silver jubilee of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the M. B. Church, South, will be observed to-morrow.

The society of the Broad-Street Church in this city is the oldest in existence. It was organized in 1828, and has since been a short time the work was instituted by the General Conference. It is therefore one of the historical societies and its celebration will be of an historic character. In response to special request Rev. W. B. Beauchamp will preach in the morning to the society on "A Notable Silver Jubilee."

The woman's work is one of the most important in the church. It has all told, 75,000 members and supporters 70 foreign missionaries. The society expects to raise $50,000 during the coming quarter.

ENJOYED HIS TRIP

Governor Montague Comes Back and Buckles Down to Business.

Governor Montague spent yesterday in the executive department at the Capitol, having returned from Bedford, where he attended the dedication of the Elbert Home. His Excellency enjoyed the occasion very much, though he was somewhat fatigued as a result of the long journey. He will leave for Bedford tomorrow morning after routine matters and in receiving callers, among whom was Dr. W. M. Holman, physician to the State Penitentiary.

COL. GEO. C. CABELL'S RESIGNATION IN

Governor Montague yesterday received the formal resignation of Colonel Geo. C. Cabell, Jr., as a member of the House of Delegates from the city of Danville. The paper was purely formal and did not state any reason for the step. The resignation will likely be accepted to be carried over to the next session of the Legislature. Cabell's successor, who will be chosen at the regular election this fall.

Deep regret was expressed at the resignation of Colonel Cabell by his many friends at the Capitol on yesterday.

Editor to Preach.

Like poets, editors are born; not made. Not every editor of a religious journal is a great preacher. Now and then the combination can be found. Buckley, of New York; Berry, of Chicago; Lafferty, of Richmond, are of this order. That Dr. Lafferty is in the city on Sunday. His rule is to his away each Saturday to his home among the Albemarle Mountains; but in response to the invitation of the pastor of Trinity Church, Rev. Geo. S. Sprague, he will preach at the 11 o'clock service on the Spirit of Wesley in the early morning. The story of the Methodist evangelization in England and America is a marvel of faith and endurance, and it is at the hands of Dr. Lafferty will be a classic. For a week the city has been stirred with the story of Wesley and his peculiar distinctive doctrines, and this service at Trinity will be a fitting finale to the celebration.

Funeral Services.

The funeral of Mrs. Margaret C. White, who died at 8:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon from the residence near Seven Hills.

The funeral of Mr. K. F. Long, who died Wednesday night in his home, 210 West Marshall Street, took place yesterday morning at 7:30 o'clock. The body was taken to Seaboard, N. C., for burial.

The funeral of Mr. Robert Edward Bedford, formerly of Petersburg, who died at his home in Richmond Thursday, took place yesterday morning at 11:30 o'clock at Blandford Cemetery. The body, accompanied by relatives and friends, was carried over to Petersburg and taken to the cemetery in an electric car. Mr. Bedford is survived by his mother, wife and two sons.

The funeral of Mrs. Florence W. Wells, who died at the Virginia Hospital in Richmond, took place at Blandford Cemetery at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and was attended by many friends.

Dr. Pitt Going North.

Dr. R. H. Pitt, editor of the Religious Herald, will leave today for Danville, Va., where he will attend the Northern Baptist anniversary. On Monday he will make a report on the publication work.

CAPITOL WILL BE FINE BUILDING

Delay in Work Means More
Money for an Up-to-Date
Structure.

"It appears to me almost a shame that the Legislature did not appropriate an additional $100,000 for repairs to the Capitol," said a Virginian yesterday, as he stood in the Square and looked intently at the dilapidated but historic old structure, around which cluster so many hallowed memories. This Virginian evidently expressed the sentiment of a vast majority of those who are interested in the preservation of the old building, and who believe that the State should have a capitol which would do her credit.

It will be recalled that the House refused to agree to the Senate joint resolution adopted some weeks ago instructing the building committee to proceed to have a new roof put on during the recess, and for this purpose to use a portion of the $100,000 already set apart for repairs.

It is also a matter fresh in the minds of many that Captain Cardwell and others in the House made strenuous efforts to get through a bill appropriating an additional $100,000 and directing the commission to adopt some plan for the preservation of the Capitol. The bill, however, was defeated, and the House, contemplating wings on either side of the building, but otherwise preserving the original plan of architecture. It is believed that, by having appropriations for other purposes such a bill would have passed, as with the $100,000 already lying in the treasury for this purpose, it is the opinion of many that in a year or two the Capitol would have been one of the prettiest and most convenient capitol buildings in the South. Every one realizes the necessity of preserving the building, and it is believed that the most appropriate and another handsome appropriation will be made, and the work of rehabilitation begun. Meanwhile such repairs as appear absolutely necessary will be made by Colonel Richardson, Registrar of the Land Office.

Snap Shots Taken In Hotel Lobbies

Hon. Joseph Stebbins, of Halifax, who represented that county in the recent Constitutional Convention and who was one of its most prominent and popular members, was in the city yesterday on his way home from a long northern trip on which he had been several months for rest and recuperation.

Mr. Stebbins, who is a man of many a number of curls while here.

He went over to the State Library building, where he met with Messrs. Fairfax and Stuart, his former colleagues in the convention, and new members of the Corporation Commission.

Stebbins said he had been out of the State so long that he was not in touch with the political situation even in old Halifax.

Among the guests at The Jefferson last night were Congressman H. D. Flood, of Appomattox, and former Con-

Save the Babies.

INFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty-two per cent., or nearly one quarter, die before they reach one year; thirty-seven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one half before they are fifteen!

We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save a majority of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium, or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestions, sickness, death. Castoria operates exactly the reverse, but you must see that it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. Castoria causes the blood to circulate properly, opens the pores of the skin and allays fever.

Letters from Prominent Physicians addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.

Dr. A. F. Peeler, of St. Louis, Mo., says: "I have prescribed your Castoria in many cases and have always found it an efficient and speedy remedy."

Dr. E. D. Down, of Philadelphia, Pa., says: "I have prescribed your Castoria in my practice for many years with great satisfaction to myself and benefit to my patients."

Dr. J. E. Waggoner, of Chicago, Ill., says: "I can most heartily recommend your Castoria to the public as a remedy for children's complaints. I have tried it and found it of great value."

Dr. Edward Parrish, of Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I have used your Castoria in my own household with good results, and have advised several patients to use it for its mild laxative effect, and freedom from habit-forming."

Dr. B. Elliott, of New York City, says: "Having during the past six years prescribed your Castoria for infantile stomach disorders, I most heartily commend its use. The formula contains nothing deleterious to the most delicate of children."

Dr. C. G. Sprague, of Omaha, Neb., says: "Your Castoria is an ideal medicine for children, and I frequently prescribe it. While I do not advocate the indiscriminate use of proprietary medicines, yet Castoria is an exception for conditions which arise in the care of children."

Dr. J. A. Porter, of Kansas City, Mo., says: "Your Castoria holds the esteem of the medical profession in a manner held by no other proprietary preparation. It is a sure and reliable medicine for infants and children. In fact, it is the universal household remedy for infantile ailments."

Dr. H. F. Merrill, of Augusta, Me., says: "Castoria is one of the very finest and most remarkable remedies for infants and children. In my opinion your Castoria has saved thousands from an early grave. I can furnish hundreds of testimonials from the locality as to its efficacy and worth."

Dr. Norman M. Gear, of Cleveland, Ohio, says: "During the last twelve years I have frequently recommended your Castoria as one of the best preparations of the kind, being safe in the hands of parents and very effective in relieving children's disorders, while the ease with which such a pleasant preparation can be administered is a great advantage."

Dr. F. H. Kyle, of St. Paul, Minn., says: "It affords me pleasure to add my name to the long list of those who have used and now endorse your Castoria. The fact of our graduates being known through the use of the formula on the wrapper is one good and sufficient reason for the recommendation of any physician. I know of its good qualities and recommend it cheerfully."
